

State Proposes Biggest U. P. Community College Here

Five Counties In Bay District

By JEAN WORTH

The Michigan State Board for Public Community and Junior Colleges has suggested a districting plan for the state's community colleges that would make Delta County's Bay de Noc Community College the largest in the Upper Peninsula and the plan has been given tentative approval by the Michigan State Board of Education.

How rapidly the districting plan will be implemented isn't known and it may never be realized in its presently proposed form, but the strong guidelines laid down by the state agencies are expected to help shape the developing U. P. community college districts.

Largest In U. P.

Bay de Noc Community College's administration and board of trustees welcomed the state actions and said that they would help clarify a rather complex situation. The Bay officials indicated that the college would move to get acceptance of the plan in the other counties in the district assigned to it, but not aggressively. Bay College now is supported by taxes from its district, which is limited to Delta County.

from tuition fees and from state aid.

The suggested districting would add to Delta for college's tax district the counties of Iron, Dickinson, Menominee and Schoolcraft.

The district would then have an estimated population of 105,167 and a state equalized tax valuation of $287.8 million in a land area of 5,326 miles.

The suggested other U. P. community colleges districts and their resources would include:

District 1

District 1, Gogebic Community College; Gogebic, Ontonagon, Houghton, Keweenaw and Baraga counties, with 75,064 population, $170.5 million tax value and 4,878 square miles. Existing Gogebic College at Ironwood would serve this district and its administration has announced that it will endeavor to get Iron County assigned to it, but the state has frowned on this suggestion so far for reasons including the split it would cause in the Dickinson-Iron Intermediate School District.

No additional campus site in this big district has been proposed yet, but Michigan Tech at Houghton could provide post-high school services in the early years of the district in its northern part.

District 2

District 2, Marquette - Alger: population 73,269, valuation $165.9 million, land area 2,733 square miles. This district is already an intermediate school district with a project (defeated in first 2.45 mills financing effort) to create a district vocational-technical school. No campus site is proposed for District 2 since Northern Michigan University in Marquette could provide post-high school services in the early years. The State Board for Community Colleges suggested: "In the Upper Peninsula consideration needs to be given to the establishment of two additional non-operating community college districts each to be located within an area where there is an existing publicly supported institution of higher education (NMU and Lake Superior State College.)"

Financing Studied

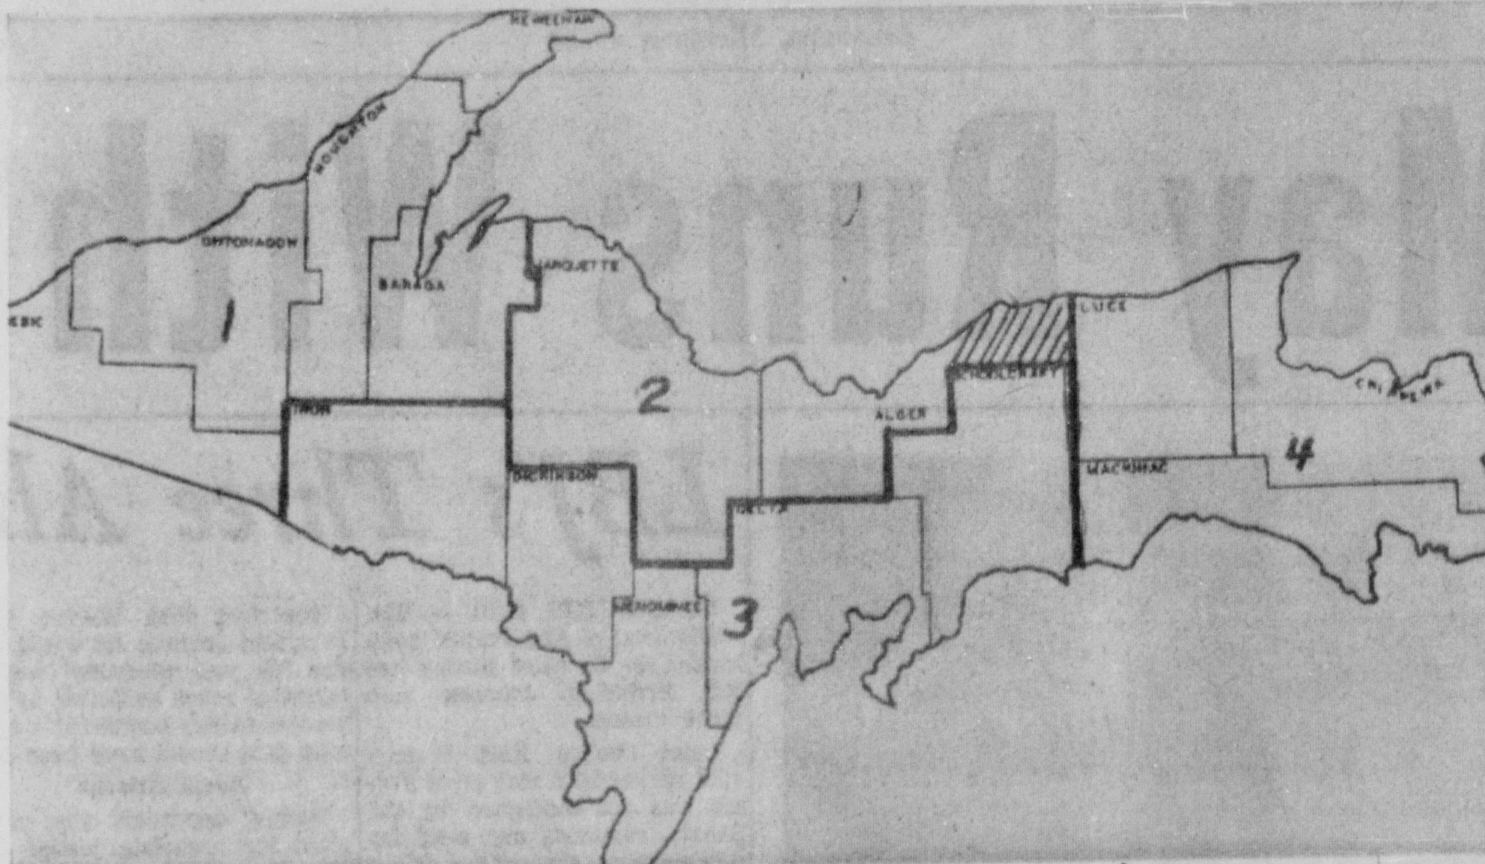

"When such a district is established, the local community college board of trustees would determine the appropriate means of servicing the people within their district. This would be done either through contracting with the publicly-supported universities and colleges within the service area or by attempting to establish through local revenue an operating community college district. State aid would be available to the district in either event. A specific proposal in this regard is being developed."

Author Connelly Writing Memoirs

Nonstop

The Civil Aeronautics Board has awarded North Central Airlines a new Minneapolis/St. Paul - Milwaukee - Detroit nonstop route. Initial service will consist of four flights daily with 100-passenger DC-9 jets starting Oct. 27.

PROPOSED community college districts for the Upper Peninsula are pictured. The one proposed for Bay de Noc Community College of Escanaba, No. 3 would be the largest in population, tax valuation and size. The districts were proposed by the State Board for Public Community and Junior Colleges and tentatively accepted by the State Board of Education.

Education has rejected applications for a joint Dickinson-Iron District and for a college district in Shiawassee County downstate.

The State Board of Education said that the recommendation (from study advisors) on the Dickinson-Iron proposal was that there was insufficient population and tax base to support "the community college program which the community seeks."

Even more potent in the state decision, believe U. P. educators, was the opposition in the Legislature to financing of more marginal district state community colleges as the state already has 28 established community colleges with two more coming up.

Split The Service?

Bay de Noc will explore with Dickinson school officials and with Northern Michigan University the provision of community college services in Dickinson-Iron. NMU has a studies center at Iron Mountain at present and Bay may suggest that it (Bay) provide community college courses of low cost (history, economics, etc.) like those now being provided there by NMU at the freshman and sophomore level while NMU provides junior and senior and graduate studies at Iron Mountain.

Such community college studies at Iron Mountain would be on a tuition basis while work was being done to include Dickinson in the Bay College district, but would be glad to participate.

Bay officials regard Menominee County south to Stephenson as a potential addition to the college's district, but south of Stephenson the area is oriented by proximity to Marquette Center of the University of Wisconsin.

Dickinson County and Iron County had planned and hoped to team for the creation of a community college district and college, but the State Board of

Catholic Teachers Convene Today

Upper Peninsula Catholic educators gather today and Friday at Holy Name High School for the 17th annual U. P. Catholic Education Association convention.

Again this year, the Catholic school teachers' program parallels the public schools' convention.

The UPCEA convention opens, following assignment of overnight accommodations, with a Pontifical Low Mass, celebrated by the Most Rev. Charles A. Salata, D.D., Bishop of Marquette, in the Holy Name gym at 10 a. m.

Sr. Andrea Marie, C.S.J., president of UPCEA and principal of Bishop Baraga Central High, Marquette, opens the first general session and Fr. Lawrence Gauthier, diocesan school superintendent, will welcome the educators.

Father Gauthier, former Holy Name superintendent, succeeded the late Msgr. O'Neil D'Amour as diocesan schools head this spring. With offices in Marquette, he is also superintendent of Bishop Baraga High School.

Aid To Schools

"The Parental Commitment to Educational Excellence," was the theme of the keynote speech by Stuart D. Hubbell of Traverse City. Hubbell is the former national president of Citizens for Educational Freedom, the non-sectarian group which has sought to aid non-public schools on all levels.

Luncheon followed the opening program, with the principals gathering in the Home Economics Room at noon.

Separate sessions for primary, intermediate-and-upper grades, and secondary schools took place this afternoon. Friday morning there are more grade school sessions, departmentalized meetings for high school teachers and sessions of The Confraternity of Christian Doctrine involving religious education for Catholic students attending public schools.

Sr. James Patricia, Dominican, was to discuss an art workshop for primary grades this morning and afternoon at sessions chaired by Sr. M. Arlene, Franciscan.

Panel On Education

A panel discussion on "The Communal Aspect of Religious Education" was to be heard by upper grades and high school departments. Fr. James Donnelly of Garden, former UPCEA president and Christian renewal leader; Fr. Howard Brown of Negaunee, CCD superintendent; Fr. Glen Weber of Marquette and the Northern Michigan University Catholic Community, and Sr. George Antoinette, Sisters of St. Joseph, are the speakers. Sr. Lawrence Therese, Dominican and Sr. Mary Neil, School Sisters of Notre Dame, are chairmen.

Fr. Otto Sartorelli of Republic, diocesan music superintendent, was to discuss the music program in the U. P.

Friday morning Sr. Antoinette will talk on techniques of teaching religion in primary grades. Sr. Mary Ellen, Josephite, is chairman. Sr. M. Leonice, Dominican, will speak in an art workshop for intermediate and upper grades, with Sr. M. Francis de Paul, Notre Dame, as chairman.

Audio-visual aids to enrich education in the grades will be the topic of Sr. Berdelle, Franciscan. Sr. Marolus, Franciscan, of the diocesan schools office, is chairman for the primary grades. Sr. Sandra, Josephite, for the upper grades.

The panel on making CCD interesting to teenagers, will be chaired by Father Brown, with Fathers Matt Nymen, Wayne Marcotte, Don Zanon and Joseph Gouin taking part. This is to be followed by dialogue on the diocesan program.

Committee members will lunch in the home ec room and Father Gauthier will address the closing general session.

Charles Wright Is Taken By Death

Charles W. Wright, 89, a native of Marquette and one of the nation's foremost mining engineers, died at his Washington, D. C., home on Sept. 26. He served as chief of the mining division of the U. S. Bureau of Mines from 1928 to 1935 when he was named the Bureau's chief foreign mineral specialist and attached to the State Department.

He is survived by his wife, Helen; two sons, Frederick D., and Thomas W. and a daughter Mrs. Robert B. McKellar, 15 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Saturday from St. Petersburg Church in Muskegon with burial also in that city.

Car, Truck Hit By Falling Tree

One man was slightly injured and two vehicles damaged about 4:30 p. m. Wednesday when a tree blew down during a heavy thundershower.

State Police said a 1965-model sedan and a 1968-model pickup truck were stopped on the Mead Road just west of U. S. 2 and 41 in Wells Township when a tree was blown down in the storm and fell across the vehicles.

James Michaud, 40, of Rte. 1, Champion, who was waiting in his sedan for the storm to subside, was slightly injured, officers said.

William Koelbl, 57, Rte. 1, Iron Mountain, escaped injury, but the top of his pickup truck was crushed by the tree, officers reported.

The U. S. Weather Bureau reported today that 42 inches rain fell in Escanaba during the past 24 hours, most of it from the brief storm Wednesday afternoon. The rain was accompanied by high winds and lightning.

The Escanaba Fire Dept. was called to the John Slapp residence, 613 S. 10th St., at 4:48 p. m. Wednesday after lightning struck a television antenna. Damage was minor, firemen said.

State Police reported two other accidents during the storm. Donald Mattson, 37, of 301 S. 26th St., Escanaba, escaped injury when his car ran off U. S. 2 in Ensign Township and rolled over. Mattson told police he saw a pickup truck approaching in his lane and swerved off the road.

In attempting to bring his car back onto the highway, Mattson said he lost control on loose gravel.

Troopers also reported that James Schabel, 32, struck a deer with the truck he was driving on U. S. 2 and 41 in Brampton Township. Schabel was not injured.

The Weather Bureau predicted clearing but colder weather for the Escanaba area tonight with frost and freezing temperatures possible. Fair and cool weather is expected Friday.

Briefly Told

The Escanaba Exchange Club will hold its annual auction Oct. 19 and 20 in the exhibition building at the U. P. State Fair grounds. Hours will be from 1:05 to 6 p. m. Anyone wishing to donate articles may call 786-4207 or 786-2681 for pick-up.

The regular immunization clinic for this Friday has been canceled. The date of the next clinic will be announced later.

The Pine Forest Volley Ball Club will meet tonight at 8. Election of officers will be held during the evening and all members are requested to attend.

L. LaViolette Taken By Death

Larry LaViolette, formerly of Escanaba, died Tuesday morning in Anaheim, Calif.

He is survived by his widow, a daughter and two grandsons in California; four sisters, Mrs. Leo Fillion of Escanaba, Mrs. Harold Schroom of Milwaukee, Mrs. Ernest Kish of California and Delores of Salisbury, Conn.; two brothers, Noel LaViolette of Sheboygan, Wis. and Stanley of Dayton, Ohio.

Funeral services will be held Saturday from St. Petersburg Church in Muskegon with burial also in that city.

'Never Too Late' Opens Tonight:

Professional Directs Players de Noc

When the curtain opens at 8 p. m., today on the first Players de Noc performance of "Never Too Late," a cast of local actors will have the opportunity to display a talent born of amateur zeal and nurtured by the direction of a professional.

The professional is Dr. William G. Butt, academic dean of Bay de Noc Community College, who, with the help of his assistant, Coralie Puglisi, has spent the past few weeks trying to resolve a unified production from the ideals of popular Broadway comedy and the realities of amateur stagecraft.

The task, without doubt, is an elusive one, primarily because of the inherent nature of local theater, which is usually marked by a prominent dearth of available professionals.

Dr. Butt and Mrs. Puglisi perform the work of producer and director combined. Besides coordinating roles and speaking lines with actions, planning stage positioning and certifying that the climax develops from the plot, they must coordinate committee, arrange for publicity, balance the color schemes of costumes and set, and worry about other problems.

Dr. Butt, who earned a MA in theater from Michigan State University, has been active in theater, acting and directing, for 35 years.

He has held roles in the productions of the Michigan State University Theater, Cornell University Theater, Lansing Civic Players, Williamston Village Players and, most recently, the Mt. Pleasant Town Players.

Active also as a critic of the drama, Dr. Butt recently taught dramatic courses at Central Michigan University. Among these were an introduction to drama, a New York theater travel-study course, and a graduate seminar in dramatic literature.

Mrs. Puglisi, too, has been active on the actor's side of the footlights. She has been involved with drama since her student days at Stambaugh High School, where she wrote and directed one-act plays. A member of Players de Noc for the past two years, she played the female lead in the group's 1967-68 production of "Barefoot in the Park."

Tonight's performance will be in the auditorium of Escanaba Area High School.

Ole', Teachers!

Escanaba is host today and tomorrow to the members of the Michigan Education Association in the Upper Peninsula, mostly our U. P. school teachers. The city welcomes this distinguished group and wishes it well in its annual self-improvement workshop.

Usually there are more than 2,000 attending the conference, but there was speculation in advance of this week's meeting that the number might be somewhat smaller this year because attendance is no longer a mandatory activity. It is now up to the individual school system to excuse teachers for the MEA conference and the time must be made up in the school year. (Teachers are paid for attendance with something extra for expenses, but the days aren't state aid days.)

We hope that the sessions here will attract a large turnout of teachers on the new basis for attendance, because we believe that the convention holds a worthwhile potential for professional improvement. The choice to attend or not attend is, we believe, a good thing because it pressures for excellence in the MEA institutes.

Teachers will be attending because the meetings are helpful to teaching competence, and not because of a mandatory order to shut down the schools for two days in October while the teachers have a gypsy picnic and listen to Lefty Gomez and other "educators."

We note changes in this year's program designed to improve the quality of the conference. Like the reduction of general sessions with their scattershot appeal to inspiration and general knowledge. The more specific the sessions are and the more tightly related between subject matter and subject teachers, the greater the benefits from the institutes, say teachers.

This is the largest professional gathering each year in the Upper Peninsula. It is under inspection for worth and justification of what it costs in taxes and the current meeting embodies efforts at reform that indicate improvement. There is at the same time this week a statewide meeting of community college faculty members which was started by the MEA (since disaffiliated) but U. P. community colleges like Bay de Noc in Escanaba aren't participating. The expense is considered non-justifiable.

One of the benefits of the MEA conventions is that teachers are reminded what an important group they are members of. We have 200 U. P. physicians and more than 2,000 school teachers. And they are in a period of great change in which they have, by their organization and militancy, raised their pay (and the taxpayers' blood pressure) and broken the walls of the educational ghetto.

This should be regarded as a service to America, once we get over the shock of the teaching profession's pay demands, for it puts a fair price on intellectuality in a country which has been paying more for a muscle union job that requires only minor skills.

These are the people who teach our young, we entrust to them our most precious possessions and expect them to inspire our boys and girls to intellectual growth that will make them moral and industrious men and women. This is a difficult work and it becomes more difficult as knowledge grows and the social ills of the world increase and cynicism and distrust of our establishments nibbles at the faith that made us stronger when the world was simpler.

Biggest Duck Hunt Is All Year Thing

By CHUCK GRIFFITH
Bureau of Wildlife

Most waterfowl hunters who put their shotguns away for the year along in December aren't aware that the "world's biggest duck hunt" is a year-round thing.

Before any hunter gets excited about joining this "hunt," let's explain that the "hunt" is work, not recreation; that the "hunters" observe and even handle the ducks and geese but don't shoot them; and that the weaponry includes cannon nets, aircraft, voice recorders and sophisticated computers . . . but no shotguns.

The "world's biggest duck hunt" never ends. It spans the continent from coast to coast and from the Arctic tundra to the Banana Republics. It is conducted by hundreds of highly trained professional waterfowl managers from three nations. On its success hinges the future of North America's waterfowl resource and the sport of waterfowling.

By any standard, the effort to keep tabs on the continent's migratory waterfowl populations ranks as the most intensive and comprehensive wildlife survey in the world.

Prairie Potholes
The bulk of North America's game ducks are produced in the prairie pothole section of the U. S. and Canada. Below the border, the best portions lie in western Minnesota, the Dakotas and parts of Nebraska and eastern Montana. North of the border, the rolling wheatlands of southern Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba comprise the prime duck producing area.

Certainly other parts of the two nations produce ducks, but none are as productive when conditions are right as the pothole-studded moraine of the high plains.

The prime duck production region covers about 3 million square miles. In years good for ducks — wet ones — some 6 million small, marshy ponds dot this expanse. With favorable weather and ample breeding stock, they shuck out broods of young ducks in prodigious numbers. By contrast, years such as 1968 — when only 1.7 million ponds had water in May and only .9 million existed by July — duck production drops sharply.

Big Duck Hunt
As winter wanes and the wild ducks and geese head their age-old instincts and head north to their traditional breeding grounds, the Big Duck Hunt starts.

Pilot-observer teams of the U. S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife begin their annual migration north, too, often arriving on the nesting grounds ahead of the ducks. By late May, these teams have started their aerial transect flights covering an 80,000 mile route. They criss-cross the duck factory at an altitude of 100 feet, counting and recording the number, sex and species of breeding ducks on the potholes. They also record the number and quality of ponds.

The May-June counts measure the distribution and size of the duck breeding population. They also evaluate water conditions which affect the quality and quantity of the production habitat. The same flights are repeated

BREEDING DUCKS CENSUSED FROM LAND AND AIR

In July but this time, broods of young ducks are recorded as one measure of probable nesting success. Drakes or pairs still lingering on potholes at this time are also counted — as an indication of a late nesting effort. Habitat is evaluated once again to forecast its ability to hold up during the brood-rearing period.

Ground Best
Crews of Bureau waterfowl specialists also move into the transect areas to conduct "beat-outs." This involves moving on foot and by boat through representative marsh areas on the transect routes to count and identify every duck present. The ground and air counts are then compared to provide a visibility correction factor needed to make the aerial counts as accurate as possible.

The federal Bureau also has veteran biologists scattered throughout the breeding range conducting long-term intensive studies in key production areas. Some of these studies are aimed at learning more about species in short supply such as the canvasback and redhead. All provide more insight into the relationship between habitat conditions and duck production.

Skilled waterfowl biologists from other agencies and organizations work closely with Bureau personnel in the overall effort. These men come from the Canadian Wildlife Service, Ducks Unlimited, the Canadian provinces and the Flyway Councils. Much of the total program would not be possible without the contributions of these veteran scientists and observers.

Wild Duck Count
The continent's wild ducks, which have numbered as high as 130 million (in wet 1956) and as low as 75 million (in dry 1962) will have been under close scrutiny for months before they are seen by the American hunter.

By that time, waterfowl specialists and statisticians will have fed volumes of data through computers to determine what kind of a duck crop has been produced.

The data will show how much of this fall duck flight may be safely harvested by Canadian,

American and Latin American hunters. This information will have been translated into hunting regulations which will put 10 to 20 million ducks in the hunters' collective bag.

The breeding grounds survey is only one of five surveys which waterfowl managers use to transform wild ducks into recreation for millions of North Americans.

People, Events Of Yesteryears

From the Files of the Escanaba Daily Press

25 Years Ago
George Fern, state director of the board of control for vocational education and William Hawley supervisor of equipment of the war production training program, accompanied by H. T. Widdowson, of the U. S. Office of Education, will be in Escanaba Monday to visit the Escanaba vocational school, Supt. John A. Lemmer has announced.

50 Years Ago
Julius P. Schemmel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schemmel, who last winter completed a course at the Michigan College of Mines, received the degree of Engineer of Mines and Bachelor of Science.

There were 38 births and 14 deaths in the city of Escanaba during the month of September according to the records of City Clerk Anderson. Of the new arrivals 21 were boys and 17 were girls.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

Another bit of counting that pays off is to count to your contract. When in three no-trump, you need nine tricks, et cetera.

In rubber bridge you can concentrate entirely on the contract tricks. In duplicate there may be occasions when you will risk your contract for an overtrick but most of the time it will pay to follow the rubber bridge practice. Make sure of your contract, then go after overtricks.

South wins the spade opening in his own hand. He looks at the nice, long diamond suit in dummy and proceeds to go after it. If South doesn't bother to count to nine, he will let his queen of diamonds hold the second lead of that suit. East will show out and South will be held to three diamond tricks. Since there is no way for him to collect more than four tricks in the other suits, he will be down two. He will complain about bad luck and, if he is mathematically inclined, may even point out that five missing cards will divide 3-2 some 68 per cent of the time and that he was just unlucky.

His complaint should fall on deaf ears. Not that it is not bad luck when a key suit divides 4-1 but rather that there was no reason for South to lose his contract.

All South had to do would be to count to nine before playing. Then he would see that five diamond tricks would be enough for his contract and that he could insure these five tricks by simply overtaking his queen of diamonds with dummy's king. This would cost him an overtrick if diamonds broke 3-2 but this is one hand where overtricks should be left to others. South should be happy to be in three no-trump and should make sure of his contract whether playing for money, marbles, match points or chalk.

Propose New Shipping Canal

PITTSBURGH (AP)—An official of the U.S. Army Engineers announced a study is being made on the feasibility of building a canal to link Lake Erie and Lake Ontario.

Donald M. Liddell, chief of hydraulics for the Army Engineers in the Buffalo, N. Y., district, said the waterway would be entirely within the U.S. border.

The proposed, deep draft waterway, he said, would follow the Niagara River for about 15 miles then cut overland in a 600-foot wide canal for 17 to 25 miles, depending on the exact route.

Liddell said a new lock would replace the existing Black Rock Lock in the Niagara River.

He discussed the proposal at a structural engineering conference of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

New State Police Public Affairs Officer Appointed

EAST LANSING (AP)—State Police have announced the appointment of Paul A. Hill, 38, public information executive with the state Safety Commission, as public affairs officer at the East Lansing headquarters.

Hill will succeed the late Thomas Masterson, who died on Sept. 23.

A native of Marietta, Ohio, and a graduate at Marietta College, Hill served as an information specialist with the U.S. Air Force from 1951 through 1953.

He has a background of newspaper and broadcast experience in Texas, Ohio, West Virginia and Michigan. Before joining the safety commission in 1965, he was associated with Fetzner Television, Inc., at its Cadillac station.

MSU's Hannah Changes Mind

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University President John Hannah has changed his position and says he will recommend suspension of a controversial resolution that led to a "cremation" ceremony on his front steps earlier this week.

The resolution, approved 6-2 last month by the Board of Trustees with Hannah's support, would allow the president or his designee to suspend a student whose activity constituted "an immediate threat to the normal and orderly operation of the university."

Several hundred young people marched from a peaceful protest rally to Hannah's home Monday and burned some 1,000 copies of the university's academic freedom report.

Students said passage of the resolution violated principles of the report and that the report was "dead" if the trustees' action were allowed to stand.

In a statement, Hannah cited what he termed "gross misunderstanding" and said he intends to recommend suspension of the resolution at the trustees' Oct. 18 meeting.

"Neither I nor any designee will suspend any student under this . . . pending final action of the trustees," he said.

Meanwhile, outgoing board member C. Allen Harlan of Birmingham also reversed his position on the resolution and said he would recommend a special trustees' meeting in hopes the board would defeat the resolution.

Harlan, a Democrat whose term expires Jan. 1, said he voted for the measure because "the facts were varnished."

"We were led to believe that only in a dire emergency—when the university would be in a position of failing in its commitment to educate our youth—would this be exercised," he said.

"However, as interpreted by the faculty and the students to which I agree, this is more or less a violation of due process and is unconscionable."

Harlan said the resolution "debases the sacred values for which universities must fight." He noted Hannah's earlier support of the measure and urged the retirement of the president, who will be 66 next week.

In his statement, Hannah said "It is evident to me that much of the opposition to the trustees' resolution arises from a gross misunderstanding of its purpose."

Dearborn's Ballot Has War Question To Be Voted On

DEARBORN (AP)—Voters in the Detroit suburb of Dearborn will have another opportunity to voice their feelings on the war in Vietnam in a special advisory question on the Nov. 5 general election ballot.

Two years ago Dearborn became the first city in the nation to conduct an advisory election on the war issue and in a vote of nearly three to two, residents indicated they were not in favor of an immediate cease-fire and withdrawal of American troops from Vietnam.

Acting on a recommendation from Mayor Orville L. Hubbard, an outspoken critic of the war, the City Council Tuesday unanimously agreed to place the proposal on the ballot.

Hubbard requested the action shortly after the toll of Dearborn war dead rose to 41. The city of 112,000 has a "kill ratio" more than twice that of the nation and more than 2½ times that of Michigan said Hubbard.

Voters will be asked: "Are you in favor of an immediate cease-fire and withdrawal of United States troops from Vietnam so that the people of Vietnam can settle their own problems?"

Dubcek, Cernik Arrive For Soviet Negotiations

MOSCOW (AP) — Czechoslovak Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek and Premier Oldrich Cernik came to Moscow today for negotiation with Soviet leaders who six weeks ago sent troops into their liberalized country.

Dubcek was reported to be seeking withdrawal of at least some of the Communist Bloc troops sent into Czechoslovakia on Aug. 20.

In addition to Cernik, Dubcek was accompanied by Gustav Husak, deputy premier and head of the Slovak Communist party.

Trip Is Followup

The airport where Dubcek's airliner landed was closed to Western correspondents. However, informed Communist sources reported that the Czechoslovak delegation was met by the top three men of the Kremlin—Soviet Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev, President Nikolai V. Podgorny and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

Dubcek and his party were seen off from Prague by Czechoslovak President Ludvik Svoboda and other top figures in the nation's reform-minded government and Communist party.

Dubcek's trip is a followup to the Aug. 23-26 Moscow talks between the Soviet and Czechoslovak leadership following the invasion of Czechoslovakia by more than half a million Soviet-bloc troops.

The Czechoslovaks signed the Aug. 26 Moscow agreement providing for a gradual pullout of the troops as Soviet demands are met for strengthening of the Communist system in Czechoslovakia and action against what the Kremlin called "counter-revolutionaries."

Troop Withdrawal

In the new top-level talks Dubcek was expected to ask for an immediate start to the troop withdrawal on grounds that Prague has been carrying out its side of the bargain.

The Czechoslovak measures have included the restoration of controls on the press and radio, the almost complete elimination of public criticism of the Soviet bloc and affirmation of the Communist party's central role in Czechoslovak political life.

Opposition political groups have been banned and anti-Soviet slogans painted throughout the country after the invasion have been removed.

Bee In His Beer

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Sam Acton may have a beer or two this weekend but he'll probably strain it first.

Acton took a big swig Sunday and suddenly his throat started burning. He gagged and spit, and up came the bee that had stung him.

The bee apparently flew into the beer can when Acton put it down for a moment. Acton spent a couple of days in the hospital but he's feeling fine now.

Enemy Scaling Down Attacks

SAIGON (AP) — Enemy forces slammed more than 100 rounds of mortar shells into a U.S. base protecting Saigon's northwestern flank today, then sent a platoon of infantrymen firing into it in an apparent effort to test the American defenses.

The enemy troops pulled back after an hour of fighting, leaving 13 dead on the battlefield 14 miles northwest of Saigon. Four Americans were reported wounded.

Earlier, South Vietnamese infantrymen reported killing 22 enemy soldiers a mile away from the American base. The government soldiers also seized a 75mm recoilless cannon, a bazooka rocket launcher, two assault rifles and a quantity of mines and ammunition. No government casualties were reported.

Fighting hit its lowest level in a week, and U.S. officers said that enemy is scaling down his efforts in some areas.

The slowdown was reflected in the weekly casualty report issued by the U.S. Command. Headquarters said 247 Americans were killed in action during the seven-day period ending at midnight last Saturday. This was a drop of 43 from the previous week. South Vietnamese casualties also dropped, from 473 killed two weeks ago to 316 dead last week. Enemy casualties were put at 2,866 compared with 3,390 the week before.

Allied troops continued to uncover huge weapons and food stockpiles, adding to the more than 100 tons of supplies they seized from the enemy last month. These seizures apparently either delayed or canceled planned enemy attacks.

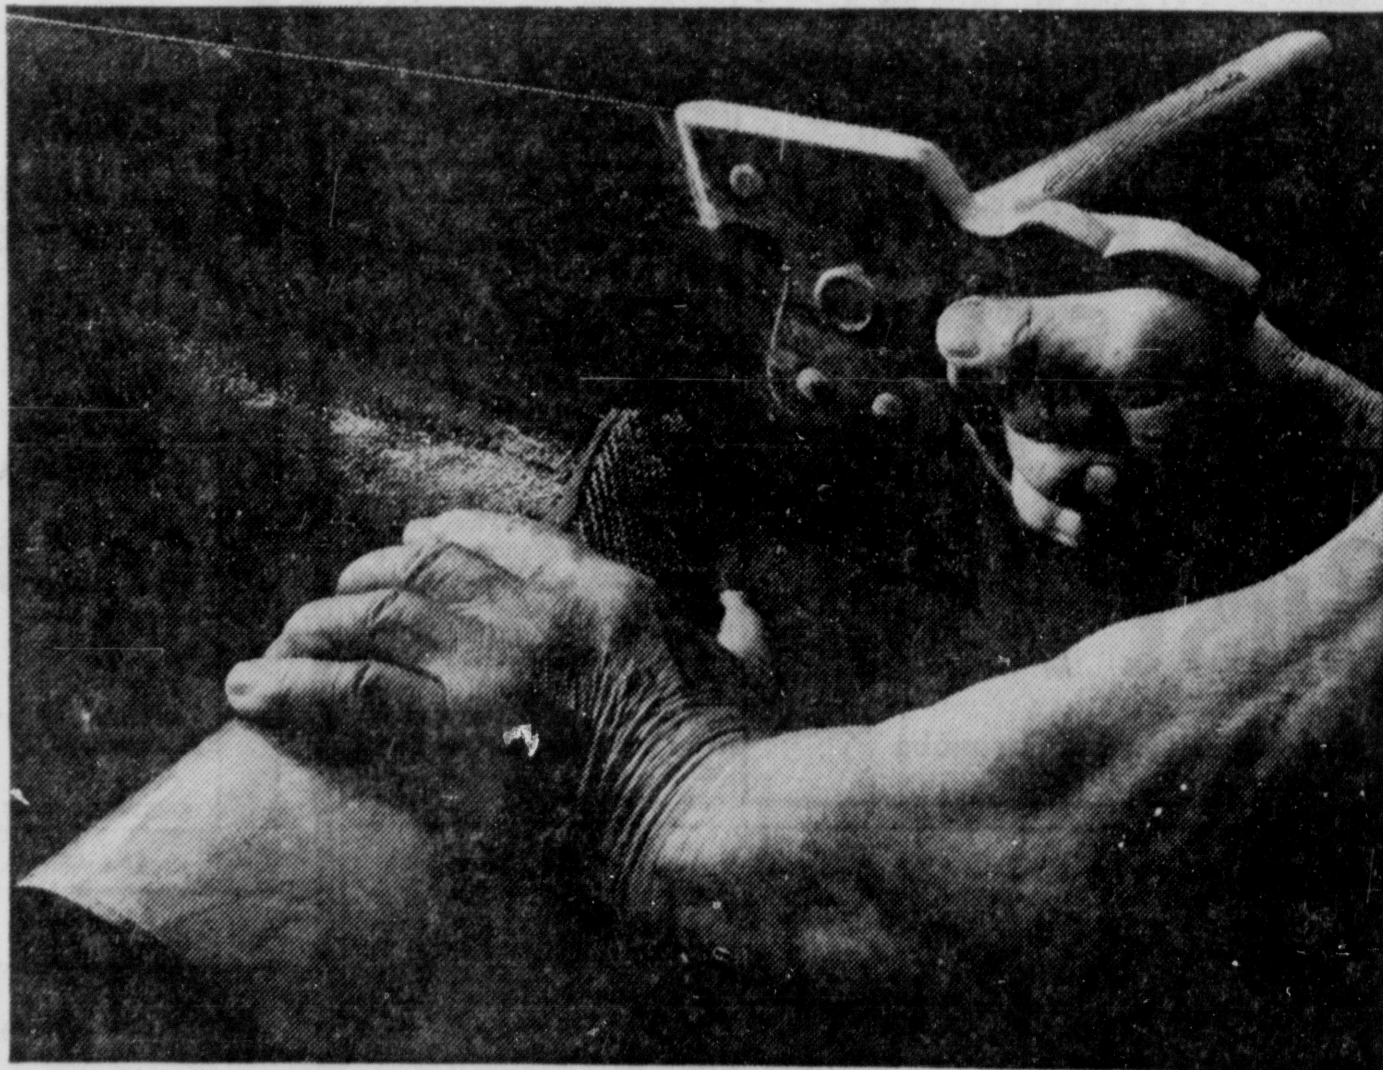

In the air war, headquarters announced the loss of the fourth American plane over North Vietnam in the past five days, raising the toll to 903 in more than 3 1/2 years of bombing.

Cohos Overturned

IONIA (AP)—A truck loaded with an estimated 3,000 Coho salmon packed in ice and destined for the tables of Detroit-area residents overturned on I 96 near Portland today, spilling the load across the east-bound lanes and the median strip.

State Police at Ionia said the truck driver, Robert H. Maxwell, 54, of Detroit, was not injured. The loss was estimated at $7,000.

Every time our competition builds an automatic rifle, they do this to it.

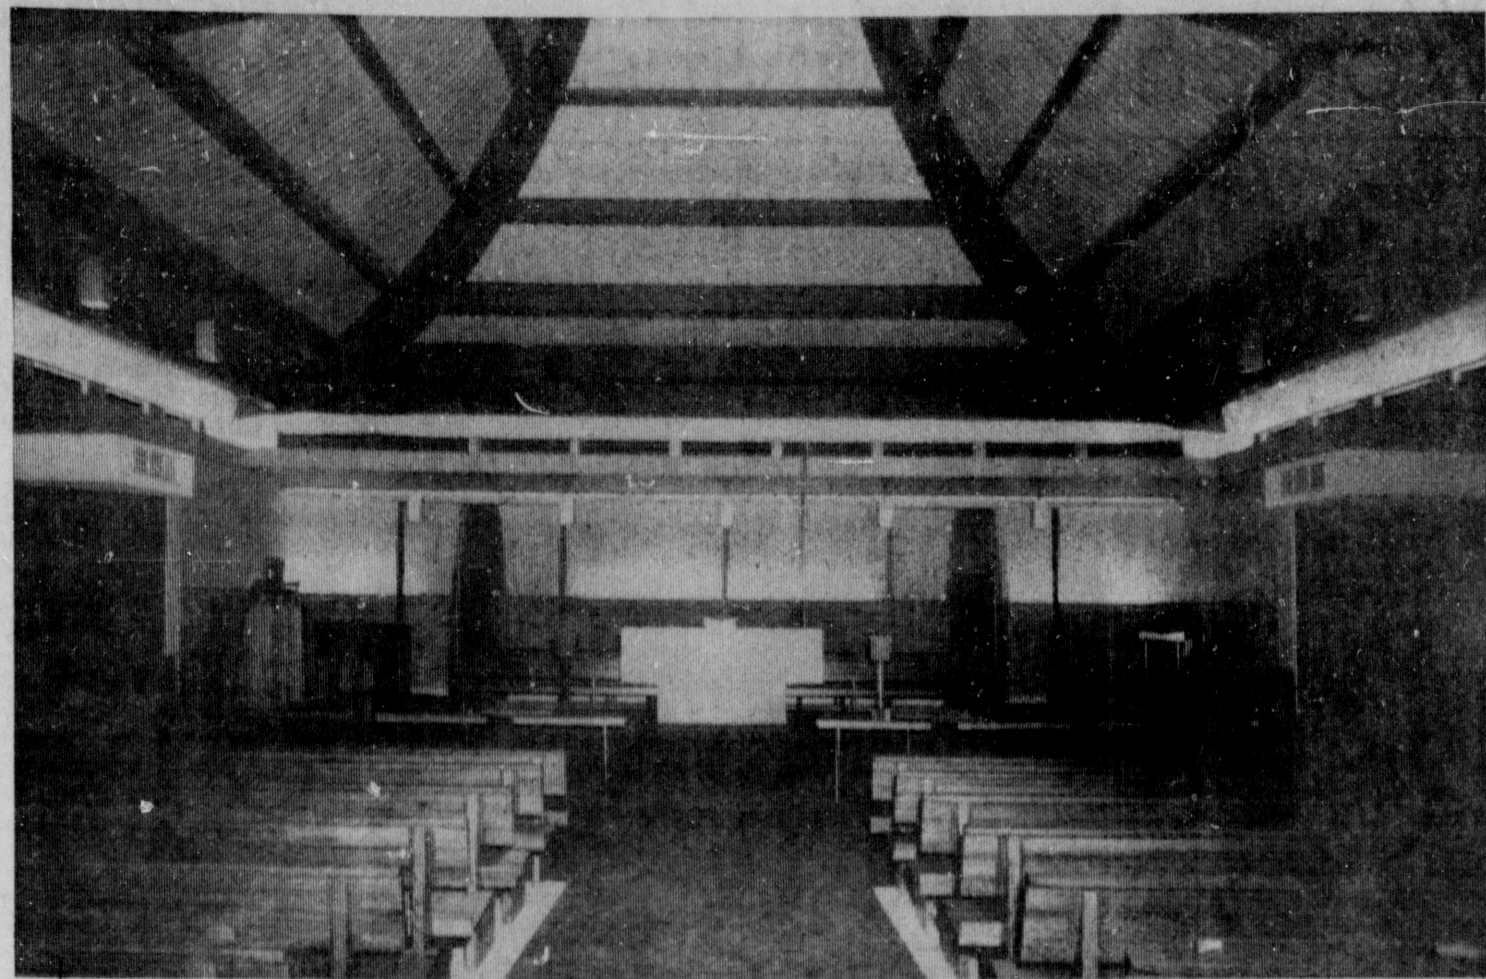

No matter how you cut it, a two-piece stock on a rifle is no match for a one piece stock. Because any rifle (bolt action or automatic) needs the rigidity of a one-piece stock in order to be truly accurate. (It has to do with the vibrations of the barrel when the rifle is fired.) So why doesn't everybody make one-piece stocks? It's not that simple. Those of you who lugged around the M1 rifle in the army already know one of the biggest problems. Weight. Then there's that problem that gun manufacturers are constantly battling. Cost. We have to admit that we went through about a carload of lumber before we had all the problems licked ourselves. One-piece. Accurate. Light. Economical. The Winchester Model 100. The most accurate automatic rifle you can buy. Weighing in at 7 lbs. for the carbine, 7 1/4 lbs. for the rifle. And you know something curious? It sells for less than a lot of the automatics with two-piece stocks.

Rifle (shown) and carbine in 243, 284 or 308 caliber. Featuring front locking rotating bolt. Extra detachable box magazine available. Winchester-Western, 275 Winchester Avenue, New Haven, Conn. 06504. Available in Canada

Ruppe Supports Kincheloe Base

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Rep. Phillip Ruppe R-Mich., said in Washington today he hopes there will be some military utilization of Kincheloe Air Force Base beyond its scheduled 1970 closeout date.

Ruppe said the Pentagon is considering using some base housing for additional personnel of the 753rd radar squadron and the 37th Air Defense Missile Squadron, located near Racine.

Beyond that, he added, there are classified discussions being held concerning the possibility of additional military facilities at the base on a permanent basis.

The congressman emphasized that the basic phase-out plan has not been altered and that no decision has been made as to possible future military activity on the base.

First Lutheran To Hold Service In New Church

Four years of hard work and planning by members of First Lutheran Church will climax Sunday with the first service in the new building.

There will be one service at 10 a. m. No church school classes are scheduled, but a nursery is planned for small children during the service.

Members wishing to march in a procession will meet outside of the old church at 9:45 a. m. Those not joining the procession, should wait outside the new building until after the procession arrives.

Pastor of First Lutheran Church is Rev. Reuben Carlson.

Planning for the building began in 1964 with the election of the Building-Planning Committee composed of Ellis Mowalson, chairman, and Roy Olson, Oscar Ohman, Norman Korinek, Carl Wedell, Norman Peterson, B. H. Skellenger and Robert Hupy.

The committee completed its study in 1966 and the congregation voted approval of the program, retaining Nelson Associates, Iron Mountain, as architect. Lutheran Layman's Movement was contracted to direct a funding appeal.

A successful fund drive was conducted in the fall of 1966 and the goal now has reached a possible $99,000 over a three-year period.

Bids were let for construction in July, 1967. Successful bidders were Champion, Inc., Iron Mountain, general contractor; Great Lakes Plumbing & Heating, Gladstone, plumbing; Sikora Sheet Metal & Furnace Works, Iron Mountain, heating and ventilating; and Rapid Electric, Rapid River, electrical. The total of the contracts was $240,156.

The building includes 14,770 square feet of floor space. The nave area seats 300, plus 40 in the choir. In the education section there are nine classrooms, a library-lounge, a kitchen and a multi-purpose room large enough to seat 200 at tables. Dedication and open house are planned for later this fall.

X-Ray Finds Loot

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Police said they found evidence of a burglary in Clarence Mason's stomach. He and Ronald Skaggs were booked on suspicion of burglary after their arrest near a home where $700 in clothing and jewelry was taken. All the loot but a gold ring was recovered. An X-ray examination disclosed the ring and Mason confessed to swallowing it.

Pays For Gripe

WOODBURN, Ore. (AP) — George Brice, president of Senior Estates, Inc., protested as too high a bill of $5,625 for sewer hookup of an 86-unit mobile home park under development at Senior Estates.

Woodburn officials found an ordinance they had overlooked in first computing the charge and changed the hookup fee—to $6,450.

Hiawatha Baptist Missions Begin New Escanaba Church

A new church, the Hiawatha Land Baptist Church, begins services in Escanaba this Sunday. The pastor is the Rev. Eugene Eslinger, who is associated with Hiawatha Baptist Missions.

Services will be held temporarily in the multi-purpose room of the Washington School and services are scheduled at 10:45 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday with Sunday School at 9:30 a. m. Pastor Eslinger welcomes everyone in the community without a church home to attend.

Pastor and Mrs. Eslinger and their two daughters specialize in home missionary work, their purpose being to start and organize new churches. They came to Escanaba from Munising where he pastored for five years. Previous to this the Eslingers served nine years with the Hiawatha Baptist Missions in northeastern Wisconsin.

The Rev. Eslinger graduated from Oklahoma State University with a degree in mechanical engineering and was employed by the Allis Chalmers Co. of Milwaukee for some time.

He also taught earth science and physics at Munising High School. He received his seminary training at the Baptist Bible Seminary in New York.

The Rev. Eslinger, in coming to Escanaba made the following statements: "We like Escanaba very much. We have shopped here through the years and are enthusiastic about its growth potential. We are anxious that the people of the community also grow in recognition of the great things God has to offer them. Much of the turmoil created across our land today has been caused by individuals failing to take advantage of a personal access to God. We believe we can help both adults and children in this matter. We look forward to becoming acquainted in this community."

Hiawatha Baptist Missions has had headquarters in Escanaba for 26 years and was founded by the late Rev. Arthur A. Glen, formerly a Baptist minister here. Rev. Glen was killed in an automobile accident in 1952. His widow, their daughter and her husband still reside here.

The organization at present has 51 couples engaged in the "new church" activity, and it channels aid to new congregations until they become self supporting. The home missionaries are working in Upper and Lower Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Indiana, Florida, Arizona and Canada.

A unique new plan for building churches has been used in recent years, called a "building bee". Laymen and ministers sometime travel great distances and gather to erect a new church building in only a few weeks.

New buildings have been erected in this manner in Gold Lake, Alberta, Loon Lake, Saskatchewan, Park Falls, Wis. and a building is now being built north of Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario.

The present staff of the mission headquarters on S. 23rd St. includes the director, the Rev. Guy King; the Deputational Secretary, the Rev. Martin Strolle and two office workers, Miss Janet Norczyk and Miss Winifred Freytag. The headquarters building has recently been remodeled and now has its own printing shop.

Less than a century ago, surgery was a frightening experience. Because of the high mortality few people would submit to the blade. Amputations performed as a last alternative after compound fractures were considered fairly safe; mortality rates averaged from 30 per cent to 65 per cent. The high mortality rate following surgery was attributed to the so-called "hospital diseases" such as blood poisoning, gangrene tetanus and erysipelas. In the 1860's, at the University of Glasgow, Dr. Joseph Lister introduced antiseptic surgery and brought an end to an era of fear.

In the 1960's much surgery can be avoided by preventive diagnosis and medication. GROOS DRUG STORE is equipped to handle any prescription your doctor may prescribe for you. # Griffin Beats Fortas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert P. Griffin, the man who sparked the fight that blocked confirmation of Abe Fortas as chief justice, is a back-row senator who bucked President Johnson, leaders of his own party and the nation's legal establishment.

Not that the 44-year-old Michigan Republican, first elected to the Senate two years ago, claims a single-handed victory in forcing Johnson's withdrawal of the nomination Wednesday, at Fortas' request.

Griffin readily acknowledges that the help of GOP colleagues as well as support from Southern Democrats was essential to bringing about the defeat of a nominee for chief justice for the first time since 1795.

Received 'Blind Call'

Nonetheless, it was the unimposing, soft-spoken senator who spearheaded the drive who turned up much of the ammunition for the opposition.

An example: Griffin got "a blind call" tipping him to the fact that Fortas was paid $15,000 for lecturing at a summer law school seminar out of $30,000 in donations solicited by a former law partner, Paul A. Porter, from five men with far-flung business and financial interests.

He still doesn't know who made the call.

This was said by many senators to have seriously damaged the appointment's chance.

What first started Griffin off was a newspaper item last June 14 saying that Chief Justice Earl Warren "... may quit before President Johnson's term runs out. Reason: He hopes to have a voice in selection of his successor."

Not Warren's Business

Griffin says his reaction, as a lawyer, was that "That's none of Warren's business."

A week later, before Warren's intention to retire was officially known and before Fortas' nomination was submitted, Griffin made a brief Senate speech saying that "I shall not vote to confirm an appointment of the next chief justice by a lame duck President."

In an interview in his office Wednesday, Griffin said that at the time "I didn't think of winning or losing. I just decided that on the basis of the apparent political motives involved, I wasn't going to vote for any nominee."

At a Senate Republican Policy Committee luncheon after his Senate speech, Griffin said, he found quite a few of his GOP colleagues agreed.

Griffin and California Sen. George Murphy then circulated a statement declaring the filling of any Supreme Court vacancies should be left to the next president and pledging to oppose any nominees submitted by Johnson in the closing months of his administration.

Cronyism

The statement, signed by 18 of the 36 Republican senators, was issued on June 26 shortly after Johnson announced Warren's intent to retire and his nomination of Fortas, an old friend and advisor, to succeed him. At the same time federal Judge Homer Thornberry, another old friend of Johnson's was nominated to replace Fortas as an associate justice.

Griffin denounced the appointments as examples of "cronyism at its worst" and renewed his objection to nominations by a "lame duck" president.

But as the controversy went on, he said, senators ended up with "a basketful" of other reasons for opposing Fortas' confirmation. No vacancy existed because of the circumstances of Warren's retirement, the court's decisions were wrong in the fields of crime and pornography, the $15,000 lecture fee, and testimony that Fortas had continued to serve as an adviser to Johnson after going on the court as an associate justice in 1965.

Giant-Killer

Griffin, regarded as a political moderate, left the attacks on the court's decisions to other senators. He said that for the most part he is in agreement with its rulings.

The failure of the antifilibuster move, by a 14-vote margin on Tuesday, doomed Fortas' chances and led to the withdrawal of the nomination.

Griffin is no stranger to the giant-killer role. His congressional career started in 1956 with a victory over a three-term representative.

He was a major force in the overthrow of Rep. Charles A. Halleck as GOP leader and he was co-author of the Landrum-Griffin Act, which was passed over the strenuous objections of the labor movement, a powerful political force in his home state.

Request Delay On Bridge Toll

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—The Sault Ste. Marie Chamber of Commerce said it was going to ask the National Bank of Detroit to delay a request raising International Bridge tolls until at least Jan. 1.

The chamber of commerce requested the detail so that a study can be made and possibly other sources of income can be found.

The National Bank of Detroit, the trustee for the bridge, has told the bridge authority to raise the tolls Nov. 1. The bridge connects Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

New tolls would increase the round trip rate from $1.80 to $3.

Ontario Province also is taking up the problems in hopes of finding some solution. The bank said the toll increase was needed because the predicted traffic over the route never materialized.

Hold Homecoming This Weekend At Stephenson High

Steal Fire Alarm

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Someone removed a fire alarm box with chisels and cutting pliers and carted it off. The box — No. 996 — was a favorite with false-alarm pranksters. Firemen said 9 of 10 alarms sounded from the box proved to be false.

Escanaba Area Public Schools

1219 N. 19th Street — Escanaba, Michigan 49829

The 1967-68 school year was one of financial crisis throughout. Additional personnel to staff new construction, increases in salaries resulting from negotiated contracts with both teaching and non-teaching personnel, and increases all along the line in the other costs of operating the schools pushed the operating budget to a new high of $2,290,000. A millage election was held on August 30, 1967, asking for five mills for five years for the purpose of balancing the budget, but the issue was turned down. Despite action taken by the Board to reduce the budget wherever possible, a balance could not be achieved. As was stated at the close of last year's annual financial report, "A sizeable deficit for the 1967-68 school year is a reality."

During the second semester of the school year, three additional millage elections were held — February 20, 1968 (7 mills for 2 years), May 6, 1968 (5.4 mills for 2 years), and June 10, 1968 (5.4 mills for 2 years). All were defeated. This left the school district not only with the deficit for the year but also with no immediate hope of new revenues. Although there was an increase in valuation of some $4,300,000, an increase in allocation from 7.2 mills to 9.2 mills, and an anticipated increase in State Aid from $249.00 per child to $262.00 per child, these increases are not sufficient to meet the rapidly increasing operation costs. Although this financial report shows a balance of cash in the bank, it also shows a total of $212,000.00 in notes to banks, borrowed to meet last year's costs.

The 1967-68 school year opened with an official enrollment of 4,597 pupils, an increase of 97 over the previous year's 4,500. A professional staff of 191 certified personnel was employed, an increase of 13 over the previous year. Of these, 88 were elementary classroom teachers, 85 secondary classroom teachers, eight auxiliary personnel (counselors and librarians) and 10 administrators.

The new Jefferson and Franklin schools as well as the six new classrooms at the John A. Lemmer school were occupied for the first time in September, 1967. Shortly after the opening of the school year, the two new classrooms at the Soo Hill school as well as the multipurpose rooms there and at the Wells school were first put to use. At Thanksgiving, the new Washington school was opened. All the new facilities were dedicated in a special program early in December.

The year brought success in negotiating three-year master agreements with both the certified and the non-certified employees under Public Act 379. When compared with salary schedules of 358 other school districts in the State of Michigan, the Escanaba schedule, calling for salaries from $6,200 to $9,300 for bachelor degree teachers and $6,700 to $10,050 for master degree teachers, ranks in the low 30% at the beginning salary and just below the mid-point at the top.

Again, there were no major curriculum changes made during the 1967-68 school year. The Educational Planning Council, to which many staff members contribute much time, was active as were many curriculum committees, but little can be done in improving program without additional funds. The Escanaba Area Public Schools continue to operate a sound and traditional type of program, but little has been done to implement new techniques and materials. The district did take over the operation of the Kennedy school for trainable retarded children for the year and continued to operate three special funds under Title I of the Elementary-Secundary Education Act, although Federal funds for the latter were somewhat reduced over the previous year. Curriculum and program development continues to be a major need of the district.

Nevertheless, the per capita costs of operating the schools have continued to increase. During the 1963-64 school year, the figure was $216.00 per child. This figure increased to $333.00 in 1964-65, to $341.00 in 1965-66, of $537.00 for the coming year. It is expected that the figure will be in the neighborhood

This school district has two great assets. First, there is the qualified, experienced, and highly capable staff. The second asset is the fine physical plant, the buildings. But a third ingredient is necessary, that being greater financial support, either through local funds, outside funds, or both. If such support is not received this year, this school district is in greater trouble than it has ever faced before. Some help will come from increased valuation figures, resulting from industrial expansion. But such expansion will also bring greater enrollments, larger budgets, and the need for additional classrooms.

Such is the status of the Escanaba Area Public School System.

Gibson Shatters Series Strikeout Mark

Cards' Ace Gets 17 In Win Over Tigers

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Just as he did last year, St. Louis' Bob Gibson has turned a potentially great pitching duel into a one-sided affair and confronted the opposition with the problem of finding another road to a World Series victory.

Gibson, who completely dominated his seventh-game match with Boston's Jim Lonborg last year, struck out a Series record 17 and allowed just five hits as the Cardinals won Wednesday's opener with a 4-0 decision over Denny McLain and the Detroit Tigers.

The 32-year-old right-hander so overwhelmed the Tigers—he permitted two men on base in only one inning—that they may be faced with the problem of how to lose to Gibson and still win the Series.

Mickey Lolich was the Detroit starter for today's second game, and Earl Wilson is Manager Mayo Smith's choice for Game No. 3 in Detroit Saturday.

Thus, now that the Tigers have seen what they can't do against Gibson, Lolich and Wilson have the task of trying to do to Nelson Briles and Ray Washburn what Gibson did to McLain.

McLain, meanwhile, had the problem of getting over his anger following Wednesday's loss. Smith pulled the 31-game winner for a pinch hitter in the sixth inning.

"Yes, I was very surprised," the 24-year-old right-hander said, commenting on his early exit. "You don't pitch 340 innings and then get yanked out."

Asked if he might talk to his manager about it, McLain replied, "I just may do that."

The Tigers, however, not only have to talk about what to do to get past Gibson, but they also have to do more than they did Wednesday.

The Cardinals ace struck out seven of the first nine batters he faced, then eclipsed Sandy Koufax' Series record of 15 strikeouts by fanning the side in the ninth.

The victory also was his sixth straight complete game triumph in Series play, and that meant two more marks—a share of the record for six straight victories and sole ownership of the mark for consecutive complete game victories.

Gibson, in fact, hasn't lost or been knocked out of a game since his first Series appearance in 1964 against the New York Yankees.

Gibson, however, wasn't the only asset the Cardinals displayed in the first game. They stole three bases in four attempts, and Lou Brock had only one of them. Julian Javier and Curt Flood got the others, which is another thing Detroit must worry about.

At the same time, though, Smith was rewarded for his bold experiment of playing center fielder Mickey Stanley at short in order to get Al Kaline into the line-up. Stanley played flawlessly in the field while rapping two hits, and Kaline doubled in the sixth, the only inning the Tigers had two men on base.

"His pitching was on a par with anything I've ever seen," said Kaline, a 16-year veteran. "He had an excellent breaking ball. I know he's a great pitcher, probably one of the great."

"I didn't feel strong, but I did have real good control," said Gibson, who posted 13 shutouts among his 22 victories during the season. "You know, getting more strikeouts doesn't necessarily mean you pitched a better game."

No matter how Gibson graded his effort, it was far superior to McLain's. The 24-year-old right-hander issued two walks that contributed to St. Louis' three-run outburst in the fourth inning.

Following the passes to Roger Maris and Tim McCarver, Mike Shannon singled to left for one run and Javier later knocked in two more runs with a single. Brock hit a 3-2 pitch off reliever Pat Dobson for a homer in the seventh.

"I just had real bad control," McLain said. "There's nothing else I can say. It probably was the worst rhythm I've had in a long time."

Despite the outcome, Smith plans to send McLain against Gibson again in the fourth game Sunday.

Cardinals Sing Praises After Posting Victory

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Bob Gibson only had adequate stuff

Wednesday in the first game of the World Series, Tim McCarver said, "but when Bob Gibson has adequate stuff, he strikes out 17 men—not that his stuff was ordinary."

Record-setting stuff is probably a better description. Gibson struck out 17 batters and broke the World Series strikeout record as the Cardinals whipped the Detroit Tigers 4-0. Sandy Koufax held the old record of 15 strikeouts, set in 1963 against the New York Yankees.

"I've been in the major leagues seven years," McCarver said, "and I've never seen anybody ever have a better year—even Koufax."

Gibson has pitched so well and broken so many records this year, he jokes about it before games, McCarver said. "Gibby kidded me before the game and said, 'let's go out there, there's probably a record we have to break.' I had no idea it was a record."

Gibson had no idea what he had accomplished by striking out Al Kaline in the ninth inning. "When you're pitching, you're too involved to know," Gibson said. "I don't imagine many guys know about it until it's all over. But the people were clapping and I didn't know why. Then Timmy walked out from behind the plate and pointed to the scoreboard. I was saying to myself 'get behind there and catch.' Finally I looked up there and saw it."

Both men agreed it wasn't

Gibson's best game.

"No, I don't think so," McCarver reflected. "He's pitched games as good as this. I can think of others when he could have had as many strikeouts, but not against the type of club that strikes out much. There was one game here against Los Angeles this year and he had great stuff. He lost that game."

McCarver said Gibson threw more breaking pitches than he normally did. "His fastball is always his best pitch," McCarver said. "His slider might approach it sometimes, but the fastball is the best pitch. He is a nasty pitcher to hit against. I'm glad I don't have to."

Orlando Cepeda thought he had found another record Gibson helped set.

"Orlando said there were 17 strikeouts and the pop ups and the two line drives I caught, shortstop Dal Maxvill said. 'He said 'I got that ground ball (from pinchhitter Tom Matchick) and threw to Gibson. You know nobody threw to me the whole game. That's got to be a record.'"

Cepeda was almost right. Nobody threw to him, but he did have an unassisted putout on Dick McAuliffe in the third inning.

Gibson said he had used his breaking stuff more. "You know right away when you have a good breaking ball, and when you know you're not afraid to use it," Gibson said. "I wasn't sure about my fastball the first couple of innings and I asked Timmy. He said it wasn't that good and my breaking ball was better."

Roger Maris, who walked in the fourth to start the Cardinals' three-run explosion, compared Gibson with former Yankee teammate Whitey Ford.

"They're both probably the two finest competitors I ever played behind," Maris said. "Gibby and Whitey always knew what they were doing and the percentages were always with them."

Purdue Players Receive Weekly Linemen Honors

The Notre Dame Victory March may be replaced this week by a new tune entitled Why, Oh, Why, Oh, Did Bob Yunaska and Bob Dillingham Ever Leave Ohio.

That little ditty may never become No. 1 on the Hit Parade but seniors Yunaska and Dillingham are two big reasons why Purdue trounced Notre Dame 37-22 Saturday to remain the No. 1 college football team in the country.

As a result, they were named co-Linemen of the Week today by The Associated Press.

Yunaska, a 6-foot-1, 206-pound linebacker from Westlake, Ohio, received an astounding grade of 87 per cent for his play Saturday. Dillingham, the 6-2, 192-pound split end from London, Ohio, tied a school record by grabbing 11 passes, two for touchdowns.

The Ohio duo rally did Notre Dame in when Purdue broke the game open with three quick touchdowns in the second period. Shortly after Leroy Keyes had scored to give Purdue a 10-7 lead, defensive end Bill McKay deflected a Notre Dame pass and Yunaska picked it off at midfield and lugged it to the Irish 31. A few plays later Dillingham caught a 17-yard TD toss from Keyes.

On the second play after the ensuing kickoff Yunaska recovered a Notre Dame fumble at the Irish 41. Quarterback Mike Phipps threw two 16-yard passes to Dillingham, the latter for a touchdown that made the score 24-7.

"Yunaska played his finest game," said Don Fuoss, a Purdue assistant coach. "He was graded 87 per cent—highest for a linebacker in a long time. There isn't anybody more dedicated to the team."

Dillingham's performance—his 11 receptions were good for 147 yards—is posing a major headache for Alex Agase, whose Northwestern team faces Purdue this week.

"A player of Leroy Keyes' caliber deserves double coverage," Agase said. "But if we do it we risk leaving Dillingham open and he will catch 11 passes like he did against Notre Dame."

New Coach Eyes Falcon Players

ATLANTA (AP)—Norm Van Brocklin, the Atlanta Falcons new coach, spent his first day on the job Wednesday observing personnel, coaching techniques of his assistants and generally putting names and faces together.

Asked about opening his Atlanta coaching career with the Green Bay Packers in Atlanta Stadium, Van Brocklin replied, "There are no waiters in the National Football League. You run into a new tiger every Sunday."

Van Brocklin, 42, one of pro football's most colorful characters, was given the job of building the hapless Falcons, who have lost 10 straight games, into a National Football League contender only Tuesday.

One Perfect Record Left On Prep Scene

And then there was one.

St. Ignace sits all alone on top of U. P. prep teams with the only unblemished record, a perfect 4-0 mark. What makes the Saints' record all the more remarkable is the fact that no team has crossed the St. Ignace goal line in those victories.

Escanaba, Marquette and DeTour have yet to lose a game but have ties to mar their marks. Marquette and DeTour were involved in ties early in the season, while the Eskymos ran into a surprising West Iron County team last Saturday night and had to scramble late in the game to knot the score at 20-20.

This week the Eskymos return home to play Alpena in a Saturday afternoon game at the Escanaba Athletic Field at 2. Alpena was victorious last weekend with a 33-0 romp over Bridgeport. The Alpena team will be trying to avenge a 26-0 defeat handed them by the Eskymos last year.

The tie with West Iron County was a costly one for the Eskymos as they lost starting center Wes Peterson with a leg injury. Peterson has been on crutches all week and may be out for the season. Dale Sochrane will fill in for Peterson on offense and sophomore Gary Brawley moves into his defensive line slot.

Alpena has a 1-2 record this season, having dropped their first two games to Bay City Handy, 37-13, and Traverse City, 21-0. They are a young team with not too much experience back from last year's squad, but could have upset on their minds following last week's victory.

Manistique is at home against Holy Name Friday night. Both teams, with 1-4 marks, are hungry for a victory and will go all out in their contest to try and make their season a success.

The Crusaders were nipped by Kingsford last weekend, 7-0, while Manistique lost to Gladstone by a 35-0 score. Holy Name Coach Tom O'Neil has promised some surprise changes in his lineup in an effort to find a winning combination and give some of his underclassmen some game experience.

Gladstone travels to Munising Saturday to meet the oncoming Munising Mustangs. The Mustangs started slow early in the season, dropping their first three contests, but have come back strong to drop Ishpeming and Negaunee respectively the last two weekends.

Gladstone sports a 4-1 record thus far in season play. The Braves' only loss came two weeks ago at the hands of the Marquette Redmen. They hold victories over Gwinn, Newberry, Ishpeming and Manistique. Much of their success is due to the passing combination of Bruce Richards to Steve Nelson and the running of halfback Rick Lonsoren and fullback Bob Carlson.

DeTour took over the scoring leadership in the U. P. when they romped over Brimley, 45-0, over the weekend, giving them 163 points in five games. Escanaba is close behind with 162 points in their five contests.

Pickford, Houghton and Stephenson are the only teams yet to score a victory this season although Pickford has a tie to show for their efforts. All three teams are in action this weekend hoping to find the way to the victory trail.

Powers travels to Bark River and Rock is at Pembine in Wolverine Conference contests this Saturday. Bark River tops the conference race with a perfect 4-0 mark. The Broncos have notched 131 points on offense and held their opponents to a mere 14.

Eight teams are averaging more than 40 points a game, topped by Boston College's 49.0. In total offense, Stanford and Indiana share the lead with an average of 531.0 yards a game. Oregon State heads the rushing list with a 368.0 average and Southern Methodist is No. 1 in forward passing with a 360.0 yard average.

Alabama is tops in total defense with an average yield of only 137.5 yards.

College Gridders Scoring Better

NEW YORK (AP) — College football teams are scoring at the highest rate in the game's history, it was disclosed today in a survey by National Collegiate Sports Services.

Games involving major-league teams have averaged 38.6 points compared to the all-time season high of 36.8 set in 1967. At this stage of the season a year ago, the average was only 34.8.

Eight teams are averaging more than 40 points a game, topped by Boston College's 49.0. In total offense, Stanford and Indiana share the lead with an average of 531.0 yards a game. Oregon State heads the rushing list with a 368.0 average and Southern Methodist is No. 1 in forward passing with a 360.0 yard average.

Alabama is tops in total defense with an average yield of only 137.5 yards.

Latourette Sets Punt Return Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — When a punt sails skyward in a St. Louis Cardinals football game, the chances are excellent that one of Chuck Latourette's feet or both of his hands will be on one end of it.

Not only does Latourette do the Cards' punting; he returns them, too. Not his own, of course, but the other side's.

He did that so well Sunday in a 21-20 victory over New Orleans that he set a National Football League record for highest punt return average in one game—47.7 yards.

The second-year pro from Rice ran back three punts—one for 11 yards, another for 46 and a third 86 yards for a touchdown. He also hauled back three kickoffs for 90 yards and his total yardage on punts and kickoffs of 233 surpassed the St. Louis offense of 219.

Oh, yes—Latourette also punted Sunday, four times for a 37-yard average.

Big Ten Briefs

Wisconsin—Senior Bob Schaffner, playing his first varsity season at quarterback, will start at that spot against Michigan State, Coach John Coatta said.

Indiana—Soph John Andrews has replaced veteran tackle Bob Kirk on the No. 1 offensive line in drills for Illinois.

Illinois—Coach Jim Valek was expected to decide today if Co-Captain Carson Brooks, one of several players on the injury list, will be ready to start at defensive end.

Purdue — Leroy Keyes, who follows USC's O.J. Simpson into Northwestern's Dyche Stadium, says: "I knew O.J. would put on a good show, but I'm not coming in there to outdo him, but to keep our streak alive. If I have a good day, great. If I have a mediocre day, I'll feel it."

Northwestern — Halfback Ken Luxton, the Wildcats' second leading pass receiver, is hospitalized with a back injury.

Ohio State—Defensive tackle Dave Foley is the only questionable starter against Oregon. The senior co-captain is out with a sore knee.

Minnesota — Sophomore quarterback Wait Bowser has been shifted to flanker because of injuries to Terry Addison and John Wintermute as the Gophers drill for Wake Forest.

Iowa — Ed Poldolok, No. 1 quarterback, and Tim Sullivan, No. 1 fullback, remain on the disabled list for the Notre Dame game.

Notre Dame — Don Reid, a 6-1 junior from Flint, Mich., was moved to safety and Ed Vuillemin, 6-2 senior, to No. 1 inside linebacker.

Wildcats Take Fourth In Small College Poll

By The Associated Press

The North Dakota State Bison moved up to second place behind powerful San Diego State in The Associated Press' small-college football poll Wednesday. The Bison, a 31-13 victor over Northern Illinois, switched positions with Eastern Kentucky. The Colonels fell to third after edging East Tennessee State 23-20.

San Diego State held first place after downing Montana State 34-22 for its third straight triumph without defeat. The Aztecs collected 12 first-place votes and 310 points in the balloting by a regional panel of 16 sports writers and broadcasters. North Dakota State, also 3-0, accumulated 198 points and Eastern Kentucky, 2-0, 186.

Northern Michigan, a 28-24 winner over Central Michigan, rushed up three places to fourth while Lenoir Rhyne slipped a notch to fifth despite a 17-7 triumph over Presbyterian.

Weber State advanced from 12th to sixth after downing Northern Arizona 21-14. Texas A&I climbed three places to seventh and New Mexico Highlands leaped from 13th to eighth. The Cowboys overwhelmed Hiram Scott 72-0.

Fairmont, W. Va., held the No. 9 position followed by Tennessee A&I State to round out the Top Ten.

Celtics Trim 2 From NBA Roster

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics are only one man over the National Basketball Association's 12-player limit after cutting two rookies Wednesday.

The Celtics were left with 10 veterans and three rookies as newcomers Al Beard, a 6-foot-9 forward, and Thad Jaracz, a 6-foot-6 fifth-round draft choice, were dropped from the squad.

Five teams climbed into the Second Ten for the first time. They were Morgan State, a 9-7 victor over Grambling; Arkansas State; Tampa; Indiana, Pa., and Trinity, Tex.

In order the Second Ten consists of Louisiana Tech, Texas Arlington, Morgan State, Eastern Washington, Arkansas State, Western Kentucky, Akron and Tampa in a 17th place tie, Indiana, Pa., and Trinity, Tex.

The poll dropouts were Central Michigan, Wittenberg, West Chester, Eastern Michigan and Carson-Newman.

Motor City Quiet Following Defeat

DETROIT (AP) — Little old ladies went about their shopping as usual Wednesday afternoon with little apparent awareness of Bob Gibson's fastball.

And for the most part, downtown Detroit with barely an outward ear to their transistor radios conducted business as usual as the Cardinals' Gibson set down the Detroit Tigers 4-0 in the first game of the World Series at St. Louis.

Many places of business hooked up the ballgame over their public address systems and some stores had the game on television in their display windows but, as the game droned on, it was apparent the excitement of the final pennant-clinching days was missing.

Over on Michigan Avenue, scene of wild celebrating last month on the night the Tigers were assured of their first American League flag in 23 years, empty seats separated the patrons of the Brass Rail Bar

Over the entrance a sign said: "St. Louis Cardinals—Breakfast of Champions." Inside, the advertised "Las Vegas style" show girls, done up in hair curlers, took an almost unconcerned lunch.

There were more empty seats over at the Lindell A.C. tavern where many of the Tigers celebrated the night of the pennant clincher. There was a five-minute wait for a recognition from the bartender and a beer. One fellow at the bar kept muttering to himself, "That Gibson's tough...that Gibson is tough..."

The Detroit Press Club had a heavier crowd than normal for that hour gathered around the color TV set. The baseball conversation was serious but not intense.

The auto companies indicated no unusually high rate of absenteeism Wednesday.

"The only very noticeable thing was that the telephone was quiet for three hours," said one General Motors executive after the game.

Coho Fishermen Wind Up Season

Coho (silver) Salmon: In Thompson Bay fishing has deteriorated to practically nothing. Most of the fishermen have given up — at least they don't have enough competition to whet their appetites. There were numerous coho noted in the bay on Friday. Water temperatures are relatively high in inshore waters. Some "backs" have been coming into the creek the past week or so.

Elsewhere in the district an occasional fish is being taken along the coasts of Michigan, Huron and Superior.

Splake Hit Flies

Rainbow (Steelhead) Trout: A number of rainbow in the 5 to 10 pound class and many in the 1/2 to 2 pound class have been taken off Thompson Creek in Schoolcraft County. Also in Schoolcraft County such lakes as Bear, Banana, Clear and Dutch Fred sustain a good fall fishery. Some "bows" are also reported taken below the Soo Rapids, at the mouth of the Big Two Hearted River and off Grand Marais.

Lake Trout: Good catch are reported by trollers off Grand Marais and trout have been caught and observed in the shoal waters of lower Whitefish Bay in the vicinity of Pen-dills Creek.

Splake: Good catches are reported in Schoolcraft County's Dutch Fred Lake in the evening using flies.

Perch Perk Up

Yellow Perch: Very good catches are reported from Poto-gannissing Bay at Drummond Island. Fishermen are having a "ball." Also, good catches are being made in Tahquamenon Bay and Hulbert Lake; fair catches in Lake George and around Moon Island in St. Mary's River, Chippewa County. Good catches are reported from Round and Big Manistique lakes, Luce County and Milakokkia Lake, Mackinac County. Fishing is slow at Les Cheneaux Channels, though best catches are made on wigglers and minnows.

Walleye: Fishing is spotty in the St. Mary River and Caribou Lake, Chippewa County; Nawa-kwa Lake, Alger County and Tahquamenon River and Big Manistique Lake, Luce County. The Blue Jig is a popular lure in Manistique Lake.

Northern Pike: Fishing is reported excellent in Les Cheneaux Channels, Milakokkia and Millescoquin lakes, Mackinac County; some pike reported from Sheldrake flowage, Carp and French man lakes, Chippewa County; Muskallonge and Manistique lakes and Blind Sucker Flowage, Chippewa County.

Project Chiefs Retain Marsh

Richard Marsh, director of the Manistique Senior Citizens Drop In Center, was reelected president of the U. P. Senior Citizens Project Directors Association at their fall quarterly meeting in Caspian on Tuesday.

The Project Directors met jointly with delegates from various Senior Citizens Clubs and Centers in the U. P. and selected Laurium as the site for the 1969 U. P. Convention. Eight communities were represented at the meeting.

Delegates from the various Clubs and Centers in the U. P. proposed that Senior Citizens unify their voices in the U. P. for their own common good and attempt to provide services for their communities. Suggested community participation included the federal-sponsored foster grandparent program.

Mrs. Clara Whitman and Mrs. Lefey Edwardson of the Manistique Senior Citizens Club also attended the meeting in Caspian.

Auto Sales Mixed On New Models

DETROIT (AP) — Three of the four major U.S. automakers introduced 1969 models during the final 10 days of September, but sales figures for that period varied widely between the firms.

Chrysler Corp., the only company to have its new offerings on the market for the entire eight-day selling period, set a record for the period and increased its sales per day by 30 per cent over the same period of last year.

The only firm showing a decline in sales was General Motors which sold nearly 6,000 fewer cars per day than during the final 10 days of September 1967.

Ford Motor Co. which joined GM to introduce its new models Sept. 26 and also enjoyed four selling days with 1969 models in the showrooms, showed the highest daily selling rate—9,154—since 1964.

Tiny American Motors Corp., which offered its new models to the public on the last day of the month, also showed a slight increase in average sales per day.

Summer Has More Uninsured Drivers

LANSING (AP)—The number of uninsured drivers on Michigan roads jumps dramatically in the summer, possibly because of young people buying old cars, says Secretary of State James Hare.

"Recent graduates from high school with fresh driver licenses and working gainfully for the first time are able to afford to buy cars," Hare says.

"Often, however, they have limited resources so they buy older cars," he said. "And, feeling that they are not worth much, they don't bother buying liability insurance."

Hare said that in the fiscal year which ended last June, the percentage of persons paying $35 into the motor vehicle accident claims fund was 5.92. In July, he added, the figure soared to 13.74 per cent.

Gimmicks Inspire Slow-Paying Clients

NEW YORK (AP) — Flower power is being used by big business.

So says a financial publishing firm which advises corporate executives on business procedures.

In this case, according to Prentice-Hall, Inc., flower power has been invoked to inspire slow-paying customers to come up with the money.

The ordinary guy has been getting dunning letters for years — some subtle hints some pleading, some threatening.

Business owners, who sometimes can be as strapped for cash as Joe the truck driver, get them, too.

"A flower may be an odd item to find in a collection letter," Prentice Hall says in its "Executive Report," "but that could be the reason why it's so effective."

One manufacturer uses this letter with a pressed flower enclosed:

"We all have fond memories that make our present day lives more enjoyable. And we've always had especially fond memories about dealing with your company in the past."

"We know you'd like to keep things that way. And it's easy to do so. Simply send your check within 10 days to cover the attached statement. We would like to see our relationship continue to bloom."

Then there's the tool company that sent its delinquent customers a letter with a rubber band taped to it. The message:

"A certain amount of stretching keeps the rubber lively but too much stretching breaks it. Credit terms are a lot like that, aren't they? Here's what we mean. There's a point beyond which they cannot be stretched."

"I hope the rubber band will serve as a reminder. You have stretched sufficiently. We must have your check in two weeks."

And the lowly paper clip has been recruited for collection duty.

One company attaches a clip to its letter reading:

"Does this clip look just like other clips you have seen? It may, but don't be fooled. It isn't. This one is entirely different. You see, this clip has a magic power."

"Ever since we bought it a year ago it has been working for us. Each time we send it out, it comes back with a check. We know it won't fail this time, either. Please 'clip' your payment within the next 10 days."

Prentice-Hall has a final word of advice for executives who write offbeat dunning letters:

"The best gimmick will fall flat if your letter doesn't include a direct request for money."

Legal Question Raised On Proposed Amendment

DETROIT (AP) — There is a "very significant legal question" as to whether a proposed constitutional amendment would allow local units of government to levy income taxes on their own authority, the Citizens Research Council says.

The Detroit-based nonpartisan organization, however, took no position on the proposed amendment — which will be proposition one on the Nov. 5 ballot in Michigan.

The proposal strikes an existing ban on state and local graduated taxes and would provide that "any income tax at flat rates or graduated as to rate or base may be imposed by the state or any of its subdivisions."

The council said this language "would clearly make it permissible" for cities, villages, townships, special districts and school districts in the state to levy income taxes, either flat-rate or graduated.

But, it added, it is not clear whether local districts would need approval by the Legislature before levying such taxes, or whether mere voter adoption of the proposal would give them full taxing power.

"If interpreted very broadly, the proposed amendment could be construed to be a direct grant of power by the people to political subdivisions to levy flat-rate or graduated income taxes as they see fit without reference to any legislative control," it said.

"A very narrow interpretation," it added, "...is that it simply permits the Legislature to authorize local units to impose flat-rate or graduated income taxes — the Legislature would decide which political subdivisions would be authorized to levy what kind of income tax."

The council also said Michigan is the only state with a specific constitutional provision against a graduated income tax, although its legality is doubtful in four states and three others prohibit all income taxes.

It added 35 states now collect income taxes, and the taxes are graduated in 32 states. Only Michigan, Indiana and Massachusetts have flat-rate income taxes, the council said.

Place Blame For Pollution

CHICAGO (AP) — Detroit and southeastern Lower Michigan are handed the lion's share of the blame for pollution of Lake Erie in a report issued Wednesday by the federal Water Pollution Control Administration.

Forty per cent of all the phosphorus and 51 per cent of the chlorides dumped into the lake come from southeastern Michigan, the report asserted. Six of the 10 companies listed by the report as the major polluters of the lake are Michigan firms.

The report says the top polluters are Ford Motor Co.'s vast manufacturing installations at Detroit and Monroe, Mich., dumping 19.7 per cent of all the industrial waste water in the Lake Erie basin.

Ranked second are Republic Steel Co. plants in Ohio and New York.

Great Lakes Steel Corp. of Ecorse and River Rouge, Mich., is named as fourth largest polluter.

Frank Kallin, Ford Motor Co. manager of facilities environmental control, said he thought his firm was ranked at the top simply because it was the area's largest water user.

He said most of Ford's water use was in cooling and that suspended solids, oils, irons and other wastes were removed from the water before it was expelled into the Rouge River leading into Lake Erie.

"I don't think the Rouge River has ever looked as good as it does now," Kallin said.

MPs Recapture Five Escapees

DETROIT (AP) — Military police at Fort Wayne in Detroit said that five of eight men who escaped from a military stockade Sunday at the base have been recaptured.

Still at large are 21-year-old George Dean and 18-year-old Charles Noble, both of Detroit, and 18-year-old Mitchell Maglothin of Flint.

Authorities said the eight men, all being held for being absent without leave, knocked down a turnkey and roughed up a desk sergeant in escaping.

Open 'B For Kids' Millage Campaign

DETROIT (AP) — A committee calling itself "B for Kids," opened its headquarters in Detroit Wednesday in preparation for a campaign supporting a proposed increase of 10 mills in city property tax for schools.

The proposed 10-mill hike would provide the school system with an additional $50 million for each of the next five years.

Laborites Need 'Great Debate' To Be Victorious

BLACKPOOL, England (AP) — Former Foreign Secretary George Brown called today for "a great debate" on the issues of the future to prepare the Labor party for victory in the next national elections.

Brown, who resigned in a huff from Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government six months ago, spoke to the Laborites' annual convention in his capacity of deputy party leader.

He was presenting the national executive committee's "Mid-Term Manifesto." It appeared to be the opening gun in the battle for re-election.

But in the debate that followed, speaker after speaker assailed the manifesto because it made no reference to further nationalization of industry.

Lawmaker Eric Heffer castigated the Wilson government for abandoning Socialist principles and he appealed to the party "to turn to the left."

Brown said that "the immense majority of the British people are immeasurably better off in material terms than they were when we came into office four years ago."

Now, he said, they have different problems and different anxieties. He warned that the Labor government of Clement Attlee lost power in 1951 because it had lost touch with the people, failing to realize their worries.

Brown said that in his view a basic issue in the minds of many people was that "there is still too much privilege in too few hands."

Stephenson Has Reading Project

The Stephenson Area Public Schools has started its 1968-69 reading program. This activity, which is designed for recommended pupils in grades one through four, is similar to the school district's 1967-68 reading project.

Three qualified teachers, each specially trained in reading instruction, are staffing this project.

This project is being financed with federal funds granted under Title I of the Elementary-Secondary Education Act of 1965.

The objectives of this project include: to strengthen each pupil's skills in reading comprehension, to increase each pupil's vocabulary and rate of reading, and to improve his ability to listen.
